

FEBRUARY. XII Month.

Don't after foreign Food and Cloathing roam,
But learn to eat and wear what's rais'd at Home.
Kind Nature suits each Clime with what it wants,
Sufficient to subsist th' Inhabitants.
Observing this, we less impair our Health,
And by this Rule we more increase our Wealth:
Our Minds a great Advantage also gain,
And more sedate and uncorrupt remain.

On the 4th day of this month, Anno 1710, was born Lewis the 15th, present king of France, called his most christian majesty. He bids fair to be as great a mischief-maker as his grandfather ; or, in the language of poets and orators, a Hero. There are three great destroyers of mankind, Plague, Famine, and Hero. Plague and Famine destroy your persons only, and leave your goods to your Heirs ; but Hero, when he comes, takes life and goods together ; his business and glory it is, to destroy man and the works of man.

In horrid grandeur haughty Hero reigns,
And thrives on mankind's miseries and pains.
(blaze !
What slaughter'd hosts ! What cities in a
What wasted countries ! and what crimson seas !
With orphans tears his impious bowl o'er-
And cries of kingdoms lull him to repose.
